WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR SHERIFF OF
OHIO COUNTY,
S. CALVIN TAYLOR.

The spring weather is making the Legislature feel tired and worn out. It is hard to get a quorum to transact business in the afternoon.

The committee appointed to investigate the private papers of Treasurer Tate, began work Monday with closed doors. They will tell nothing until they have finished the work. The people want to know, but are willing to wait a short while.

The Second District educational meeting will be held at Eddyville, May 19th. The program will be one of great interest. The Vice-President of this district, the Third District, has declined to call a meeting for Leitchfield this spring, giving as a reason, the lack of interest taken by the teachers and county Superintendents. Those from this district, who desire to attend a meeting this spring, should go to Eddyville.

The days of miracles are not over. Mrs. Stephen Cassidy, of Bowling Green, who had been sick and unable to walk for seven years suddenly made to "arise and walk." She says she heard a voice say to her, "Mrs. Cassidy, arise and walk," and she arose shouting for joy. She attributes her cure to intervention from heaven, when in reality, her will was made strong enough to control the muscles, by the voice she heard, or thought she heard.

Mr. CISEY from the county of Muhlenberg has introduced a bill in the Legislature to prohibit the playing of base ball, town ball or foot ball in the Commonwealth. Mr. Cisey has at last rendered himself famous, and his name will be remembered forever if he will now introduce a bill requiring all persons to extend their countenances and look sanctimonious all day Sunday. Give Mr. Cisey room, and the angels will soon come to earth. He is truly a prodigy.

In this issue will be found a reply to Elder H. M. Ford on the Division by Mr. C. M. Barnett. Both articles have been published by request. The HERALD is not a denominational paper, consequently it is not the paper through which a religious controversy should be conducted, hence we will be compelled to stop where we are. The HERALD is perfectly willing to make announcements for all religious denominations alike, but it must be excused from conducting a religious discussion while it devotes itself to local matters of interest to the people generally.

RAILROADS AND TAXATION.
The history of railroad building in Kentucky is a subject worthy of earnest consideration. At first vast corporations sought to reach large inland towns by rail in order to be able to do the traffic they needed. Now the railroad goes into the undeveloped country and towns, even cities spring up along the line, and a new industry and a new life is seen among the people. Years ago the railroad company induced towns and counties along their lines to vote aid in the shape of "stock in the road" and defrauded the people out of their just dues in many instances by a worthless stock and a transfer of property. Now railroad companies build roads where the people want them, provided the people are willing to give a reasonable aid for the benefits derived from a road in their midst. The day of heavy taxation for the benefit of railroads, has passed, the people are no longer willing to assume burdensome obligations of this kind, and the Legislature recognizing this, has properly introduced a bill prohibiting any county or precinct from voting a railroad tax exceeding four per cent. of its taxable property.

Logan county years ago, took $400,000 stock in the L. & N. and issued bonds in payment of same. The county of course paid the interest on these bonds for a few years until the dividends of the road paid the interest on the bonds, and a handsome sum to the county, and the county has only had to pay interest during two years since the road first declared a dividend. The same county also voted a $500,000 stock in the O. & N. and today pays the interest promptly, and is glad she has the road. Another example may be cited. The well-known case of our neighboring county, Muhlenberg. That county voted on herself a bonded debt of $400,000, paid the interest for awhile then repudiated. Her condition is indeed bad and no one envies her the experience she has had, but every right-thinking man must know that if Muhlenberg county had compromised her debt years ago, she would have been in far better condition to-day than she is. Counties cannot afford to vote a large tax on themselves for the benefit of railroads, but counties can afford to vote a small tax on themselves to aid in the construction of a railroad that will benefit the county far more than the amount paid out.

Our farmers in this day cannot afford to haul their product forty or fifty miles to market and compete with products of the same kind produced near to market, and if a railroad as a medium of transportation is not built through their community, they move into a community where they can enjoy the benefits of cheap and easy transportation, hence it is easy to see what will be the future of that section far removed from transportation. Can Hartford afford to give aid to a railroad? It can. Can Ohio county afford to vote aid to a railroad running North and South through the county? It certainly can. Can it afford to vote a large tax on itself? It most assuredly can not. Would it not benefit this county far more to increase its facilities for transportation, to invite enterprising men to their rich lands, to secure more factories, to increase the value of her lands by the expenditure of a small amount of her revenue, than to throw cold water on all projects for advancement. This is time for practical common sense and the county, town or community that does not look out for its own interest is left behind in the onward movement of times.

FOR SHERIFF.
The report of the convention published elsewhere shows how harmonious was the convention that nominated S. Calvin Taylor for Sheriff. The action of Holbrook and Casabier in withdrawing rather than cause any wrangle for the nomination because of the almost absolute equality of their respective friends, is certainly to be highly commended, and those two worthy gentlemen only showed their true manhood in their unselfishness. The Democracy of Ohio county may well be pleased by the work of the convention. The nominee, Mr. Taylor, is a man well qualified in every regard, to fill ably and well the responsible office of Sheriff. A man of acknowledged business qualifications, one who has managed his own business successfully, can certainly be trusted with the business of the county. Those who know him best, honor him for his integrity and strict sense of honor. That he will have an easy race, no one for a moment imagines. His opponent, Mr. Renfrow is well known as a gentleman of honesty and a man of uprightness who would not stoop to do a mean thing, as the respective party leaders, the people may count on a high principled canvass, and we shall be mistaken if such is not the case. There will be nothing to divide the Democratic party, and every man who believes in firm Democracy can not only vote for Taylor but work for him. We believe the nomination of Calvin Taylor will give general satisfaction to the party and people, and secure for the Democratic party a good majority, and to the people of Ohio county a good Sheriff.

IMPEACHED.
James W. Tate, late Treasurer of Kentucky, has been impeached by the proper authority, according to the law and constitution, and deposed from the high office he held so long. Tate sinned as a man, not as a politician, and it is the duty of the State to bring him to justice. The Legislature has in a measure redeemed itself by the business like way it conducted the trial and investigation. It should inspire the Democracy with new courage and renewed confidence in its true and sound principles to realize that a Democratic Governor and a Democratic Legislature are making such a clear and searching investigation in the conduct of State affairs. Of course the opposite side will make all the political buncombe out of the matter possible. The spread eagle orator will orate mightily from the stump and platform about Democratic theft, but sensible men are not deceived by such sensational claptrap. People generally throughout the State pity the poor wretch who is a wanderer in a strange land, and at the same time are forced to commend the action of Governor Buckner and the Legislature.

CROWWELL.
I see in the Kentucky Progress of March 30th, an article over the name of J. M. Shultz, in which he sets forth the following very brilliant and eloquent experience. "On the election of our next Republican President, I hope to realize $5, to $10, per head, for calves which are now worth 60cts per doz." I desire to say to Mr. Shultz that while I am not exactly in the stock business I will take all the calves he can find in Kentucky at the value he places upon them and rather than be nice about it I'll make it four times as large, ($240) yes, and even higher than that. Hurrah for Democracy and Cal. Taylor! J. B. WILSON.

THE CONVENTION.

A HARMONIOUS GATHERING OF WHOLE-SOULED DEMOCRATS.

Two Good Men Sacrificed Their Personal Wishes to the Will of the Party, and

A Man Nominated Who Will Laid the Party and Bring Out Its Full Strength.

THE SUMMER'S WORK.

Pursuant to call, the several precincts in the county held meetings Saturday and selected and instructed delegates to meet in Hartford Monday. All the precincts were represented by authorized delegates. A large crowd of Democrats were present from all parts of the county. The Convention was called to order by the Chairman of the committee, G. W. Masie, R. E. Hooker was made permanent Chairman, McHenry Rhodes Secretary and F. L. Felix Assistant Secretary. Chairman Hooker made a strong, though short speech in taking the chair.

The following committee on credentials and representation was appointed: T. J. Smith, W. E. Gregory, W. J. Riley, J. B. Wilson, W. N. Stewart, Ben Newton and J. H. C. Cannon.

The following committee on resolutions was appointed: Dr. W. B. Hayward, Dr. Isaac Foster, J. P. S. Sutherland, J. S. Williams, S. C. Taylor, A. G. Holbrook.

While the committees were preparing their reports, Gen. Hill addressed the meeting. His speech was a sound one. In his references to the State Government, he said that electing Governor Buckner, was the best work the Democracy had done in twenty-five years. He referred to the Tate defalcation and commended the Democratic Governor and Legislature for their promptness in removing, trying and impeaching Treasurer Tate on the first knowledge they had of his guilt.

The committees then came in, and Gen. Hill closed by admonishing Democrats to be true to their principles and elect the nominee of this Convention. The report of the committee on representation and credentials was adopted and is as follows:

The committee on representation and credentials respectfully report. We suggest as a basis of representation, one vote be allowed each precinct for every 25 votes or fraction of over 12 votes cast for Gov. Buckner at August election 1887. This will give

Barnes	4	Horse Branch	2
Barnes	4	Rockport	2
Barnes	4	Centerville	2
Barnes	4	Centerville	2
Barnes	4	Centerville	2
Barnes	4	Centerville	2
Barnes	4	Centerville	2
Barnes	4	Centerville	2
Barnes	4	Centerville	2
Barnes	4	Centerville	2

Necessary to a choice 38 votes; all precincts of the county are represented. Respectfully submitted,

T. J. SMITH, Ch'm'n.

The committee on resolutions made the following report which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved by the Democracy of Ohio county in Convention assembled: First, that we recognize in Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, a wise, cautious, industrious, energetic, able, honest and patriotic chief magistrate who has reflected credit upon his high office and the mighty republic of which he is the official head, and that we desire his re-nomination by the Democratic National Convention to be held in St. Louis in June next.

Second: that in Gov. Buckner, Kentucky possesses an executive officer of the rarest ability, who, by his ceaseless vigilance, unbounding integrity, faithful and conscientious discharge of the public trusts confided to him by the people, has won the esteem of every unprejudiced and patriotic citizen of our beloved Commonwealth.

Third: that we demand a just, but rigid investigation of every officer whom the constitution or any statute makes it a duty to investigate, and that the guilty be promptly ejected from office and punished according to law. No dallying with reascals.

Fourth: that we pledge our hearty support to the nominee of this Convention, and that we will use all honorable means to secure his election.

Dr. Hayward as chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, in presenting the report, made a short but strikingly appropriate speech. The Chair then called for nominations. Jas. M. Casabier was nominated by J. E. Rowe, and J. D. Holbrook by T. J. Smith.

It was known that the instructions of the delegates on the first vote would give a bare majority of one, so evenly divided were the friends of the two candidates. Just before the call of the precincts was ordered by the chairman Mr. Casabier arose in the audience and withdrew from the race, and as the applause of this unselfish act died away Mr. Holbrook announced his withdrawal from the contest. The action of these two gentlemen was vigorously applauded, and their gracious acquiescence to each other's wishes made their resignation a victory. The 8th was then clear. Gen. Hill in a pleasing speech placed the name of S. Calvin Taylor in nomination, and a call of the precincts showed a perfect and enthusiastic unanimity for Taylor.

The Chair introduced Mr. Taylor in a very appropriate and pleasing speech, as his successor, and predicted for him a hearty support and a good majority. Mr. Taylor bowed his acquiescence to the will of the people and was heartily cheered. Appropriate speeches were then made by Mr. J. B. Wilson and Prof. W. B. Hayward.

The meeting then adjourned, everybody satisfied with the nomination for sheriff.

get a market. Then our lumbermen and millers after black diamond will have an incentive to push their business, giving employment to more of our country men. It is spread the day and hour when the sport of the iron horse shall be heard throughout our county.

Railroad Legislation.

Competition is the great force that has resulted in the vast extension of our railroad system, and the steady reduction of transportation charges. We should not restrict competition, but we should give it free course, guarding at the same time by general laws against well-known abuses.

Most of the evils which have arisen in the past, have come from the attempts of legislation to freeze the growth of railroads; and as an illustration of this we need only refer to the perpetual scandals attaching to legislation regarding land-grant roads.

We should grant only such charters to capitalists seeking investments in the construction of railroads as most carefully to define their privileges and their obligations. There has been a healthy growth of public sentiment in this respect, and the hearty approval of Gov. Buckner's vetoes is evidence of this.

On the other hand, it would be unwise to enact an era of anti-railroad legislation. It is no time for us to begin the enacting of a series of laws which result so disastrously in the Northwest. We want more railroads in Kentucky, for every mile built strengthens the tendency to lower rates.

There seems indeed to be no necessity for a railroad commission in Kentucky. The Thomas Bill abolishes the commission, but provides for the appointment of three assessors, from whose decision there is to be no appeal. This, in our opinion, is better than imposing this duty on the Sinking Fund Commissioners.

ROCKPORT.
April 2, 1888.—Mr. John Her, of Obion, Tenn., is visiting relatives in this part of the county.

While making last week, the mail in the hands of Mr. E. L. Barnard, slipped from the handle, and struck Mr. Byers a fearful blow in the face. He is not dangerously wounded, however. Messrs. Mel Neal and J. E. Maddox each lost a horse last week. They died suddenly, cause unknown.

The high water lets out to market a great number of saw-logs, though some will be left behind.

A wild engine ran into Mr. Mike Gannon's (section foreman) hand-car Saturday, and knocked it into smithereens.

Mr. and Mrs. Pan Chien were visiting relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

This precinct instructed for Casabier Saturday. The vote was unanimous, but the unanimity means no opposition to Mr. Holbrook if he is nominated to-day.

Rev. Ellis J. Maddox, who is at home from Louisville to meet his sister, Mrs. Louise Maddox, who is expected from Texas daily, preached a good sermon at the Baptist church last evening. Rev. Hartford preached at the school house in the afternoon.

Perhaps some of my dear readers may expect some notice of the Gleaner man, and a crank from Hancock this week, but I begin to feel like the man who fought his shadow on the stone-wall "kind to gin out," still I'm defiant.

The Future State.

Morganfield Sun.
An editor writes 365 days per year to get out 52 issues of a paper; that's labor. One in a while somebody pays him for a year's subscription; that's capital; and once in a while some one-of-a-kind of a dead beat takes the paper for a year or two and vanishes without paying for it; that's anarchy. But later on justice will overtake the last named creature, for there is a place where he will get his deserts; that's hell.

CENTERTOWN.

Business improving.
Convention passed off pleasantly. Mrs. Rezin Miller joined the M. E. Church, Saturday night, and was baptized in Walton's Creek Sunday morning by Bro. Robert Bennett.

Singing every Sunday evening, and prayer-meeting at night.

Miss Bertina Rowe was the guest of Miss Ida Stroud last week.

Messrs. Wade Gary and Joe Smith, of Rockport, were in town Sunday eve. Miss Isabel Ball, of Equality, is visiting relatives in the vicinity. J. K. Smith has moved into his new dwelling. Clyde, the little son of Warren Roark, is very ill of scarlet fever.

Dr. Mc. Ford and L. C. Morton have pneumonia.

A popular young merchant in our town assures his customers that the fine tooth comb is the latest in the way of pocket combs for gentlemen; and the girls are wondering why it should be thus.

Our town was thrown into unusual excitement a few days since by the announcement that there had been $5 taken out of the desk in Smith & Coffman's store during that day. Suspicion pointed at once to a lad that had been spending money during the evening, and were so well founded that they recovered the greater part of their money the next morning. Later it was learned that he had some other articles of merchandise in his possession. W. P. Rowe & Son, put in claim at once. Alvin announced second hand shoes for sale.

A. T. Tichenor was again sent to the asylum last week.

In Bad Condition.

(Owensboro Inquirer.)
The levee which was thrown up on the Hartford road, near North Panther, last fall, is proving a great annoyance to the farmers who are compelled to haul over it. It has never settled and a heavily loaded team is sure to get caught. One was stalled this morning in the mud, and as there was not room to pass it, twenty-eight other teams were compelled to stop and wait till the first wagon could be moved.

PROCEEDINGS.

Of the Republicans in Mass Convention at the Court House in Hartford, on Last Saturday.

The convention was called to order by Chairman E. D. Guffy, who, in a few appropriate remarks set forth the object of the meeting. R. R. Wedding, of Rosine, was chosen as Chairman, G. B. Fitzhugh, H. C. Truman, and G. B. Williams, were chosen as secretaries. W. A. Gibson, Dan Tracy, Wm. Milligan, C. M. Poulton, E. R. Allen, were appointed a committee on Resolutions. M. S. Ragland, W. S. Cole, N. C. Daniel, C. M. Barnett, Rev. R. A. Stevens, Sam Krown, were appointed a committee on Organization.

While the committees were out, E. D. Guffy was called, and made his usual Republican speech. To say the least of it, he was full to overflow, of assertions. For instance, in the course of his remarks he referred to the Tate matter, and said that was the cause of the juryman not securing their money for a month or so. When this assertion was made there was an old gentleman spoke out and said, that he had not gotten his yet. Now to this gentleman we would respectfully say that he should take the HERALD and be posted. The money has been ready for quite two months, and the people were notified through this paper.

Guffy also could not refrain from handling the bloody shirt, and that to without gloves.

The committees were by this time ready to make their report. Nominations were now in order.

The names of W. T. Brown, W. Condit and Ed Renfrow were placed before the convention. Messrs. Brown and Renfrow were not present. Mr. Condit came forward and in a few very timely remarks withdrew from the contest.

Mr. E. P. Neal, in a few appropriate remarks, placed Mr. W. T. Brown in nomination.

Mr. J. S. R. Wedding in a few timely remarks, placed Ed Renfrow's name before the convention. The following gentlemen were appointed tellers: W. A. Gibson, E. D. Guffy, H. B. Taylor and G. B. Williams. The vote was taken and resulted in Ed Renfrow's nomination.

The delegation from Ohio County was instructed to cast its vote solidly on the second of May, in Louisville, for C. M. Poulton as a delegate from the fourth district to the National Convention to be held at Chicago. They were also instructed to cast their vote for J. W. Lewis for delegate at large to the Chicago Convention. They were also instructed to endorse W. O. Bradley for the second place on the Republican presidential ticket.

J. B. Rogers was called and entertained the audience in an acceptable manner for a few minutes.

Orange Blossoms.

Mr. Wm. T. Thorp and Miss Julia F. Nail at Greenbrier church, Davis Co., on Tuesday, March 27th at high noon.

Promptly at 12 o'clock the doors of the church were thrown open. The bride, clothed in the latest fashion, Messrs. P. S. and Henry Howard, and Walker and Laurie Tauney, moved slowly down the aisle, to the strains of soft music rendered by Miss Ora N. Rust of Evansville. The church was darkened and beautifully decorated with flowers. The soft subdued light lent a solemnity to the scene. The bride was graceful and lovely in white albatross and silk, carrying in her hand and wearing at the corsage exquisite Marsechal Neil roses. The groom in a becoming suit of black was the perfection of manliness. A beautiful and impressive ceremony was pronounced by Rev. J. A. Bennett, after which, kneeling at the altar, they received the benediction which was eloquent and touching. The bridal party passed out in time to a brilliant march. The invited guests assembled at the house of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Bennett, sister of the bride, where an elegant dinner was served. Excellent music was furnished by the Livia String Band. The presents were numerous and elegant. Miss Julia F. Nail is one of Kentucky's fairest daughters, one of the most popular young ladies in her circle; her bright and social ways have won love and admiration of all who know her. Mr. Thorp is well known and has many friends. His qualities of head and heart are such as entitle him to the name of one of nature's noblemen. We extend to the hearts so happily united a wish that they may enjoy the best and brightest that life contains; that their lives may blend in harmony of peace until they are called to lay down the vows that united them at the earthly altar, for a more sacred union above.

The day had dawned of promise fair, Though clouds obscure the smiling sun, A joyous gladness fills the air, And proudly beat hearts are one.

Our Julia is a bride to-day, Rare smiles adorn her gentle brow, Yet in her heart, O! how you say, What pure, sweet hopes are rising now?

Half regretfully, half sadly, She turns to leave the old glad life, Yet gracefully, proudly, freely Receives the tender name of wife.

And he who won her generous heart, Now in his vow with sacred love, When fall the words "thill death shall part," Their vows are registered above.

A WORD TO THE WISE!

SOMETIMES the people tire of the chronic "Cheap John" talk that not unusually cumbers the average Clothing and Dry Goods advertisement. It does not require a very far-seeing intellect to understand that the laws of trade remain pretty much the same this year as last; that profit and loss are still issues in business; that selling sometimes for nothing is not the best way to make a transaction pay a dividend. Yet some dealers would have you believe that such is the case; that they, and they alone, have the "presto! change!" business down so fine that they can apply it to the Dry Goods and Clothing business with the most gratifying results; that all that it is necessary for you to do is to visit the nonpareil, sledge-hammer, bargain-smashing machine, lay down $2.83½ and walk away with twenty-five dollar's worth of goods. We are interested in the Dry Goods and Clothing trade, and as the season advances, we are likely to have something to say on the subject. For the present we will state that our stock is large and complete in all lines; that we can offer to our customers all the advantages that occur to the manufacturer, and that by trading with us all middle men's or jobber's profit is cut off; that our goods are guaranteed as represented or money refunded, and one price to all. Call and see us.
